AACC case study
12-20-2007

AACC – The downtrend mentioned in the TPARC report for 11-02-2005 has continued until the current time. This stock has lost almost 50% of its value during a strong market move up. The Performance Alarm remained on throughout the decline and the relative performance chart remained below the 45-degree bearish resistance line. Bargain hunting in this stock would have been a serious mistake.
