

Technical Perspectives on Analyst's Rating Changes

ABX – case study
02-09-2008

ABX – The TPARC report for late January 2006 called attention to the major base that had formed and the upside breakout that had developed. The stock suffered a serious pullback into support subsequent to this major base and breakout but the support held and the up trend resumed. The stock has enjoyed a major move up and the gain is approaching 75%.
