

Technical Perspectives on Analyst's Rating Changes

AV case study

02-07-2007

AV – The stock rallied strongly from the low at (D,5+) and then has settled back a few rows. The stock now appears to have a more meaningful base than it did last August. The rally up was over 30% so this stock really did outperform the market. There have been no triple top buy signals so the trend of the stock is still questionable. The stock remains below the BRL.
