CRZO case study
03-01-2008

CRZO – The TPARC report from April 19, 2007 indicated that CRZO was "very close to an upside breakout" and that "the odds favored the upside." The uncertainty was resolved shortly thereafter when the stock broke out to the upside. The stock remained above the 45-degree Bullish Support Line during the consolidation from late 2005 until the breakout in 2007. The stock has shown excellent performance during the past year.
