

Technical Perspectives on Analyst's Rating Changes

GILD – case study
02-23-2008

GILD – The TPARC report from September 12, 2005 indicated that the stock was trending upward and that it had broken out above a major consolidation. The more recent chart has been adjusted for the recent 2-for-1 stock split. This stock has shown excellent long-term performance and has remained above the 45-degree Bullish Support Line throughout the move up. This represents a gain of almost 100% in the stock.
