

Technical Perspectives on Analyst's Rating Changes

IP - case study
02-16-2008

IP – The TPARC report on IP was triggered by an analyst's upgrade in September of 2005. The stock was listed as being in a persistent long-term downtrend. While the stock is up slightly from the price on the TPARC report, it has lost meaningful performance relative to the market. This stock appears to be a "value trap" for unsuspecting investors.
