

Technical Perspectives on Analyst's Rating Changes

JDSU case study
02-24-2008

JDSU – The chart shown in the TPARC report from May of 2006 does not match up with the more recent chart due to the effects of a 1-for-8 reverse split that occurred in October of 2006. The TPARC report indicated that the technical perspective at that time only provided for "limited upside potential." The stock lost almost half its value since the TPARC report was sent out after adjusting for the reverse split. JDSU continues to perform poorly.

W. Clay Allen CFA

