

Installing Market Dynamics

Insert the CD-ROM into the CD drive. The letter for the drive is usually D or E.

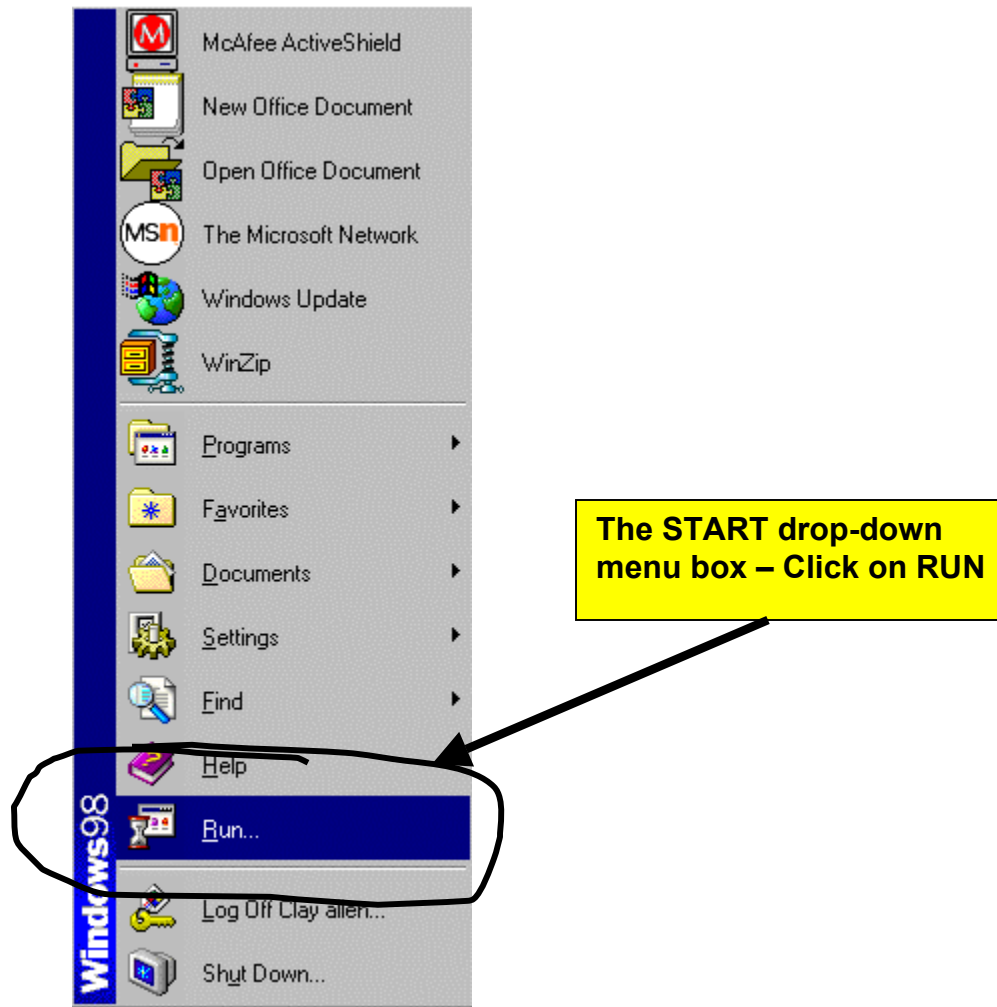

The following chapter of the tutorial shows the installation process step by step. If you have an old version of Market Dynamics on your computer you should remove it before installing a newer version of the program – use start – settings – control panel – add/remove programs – select Market Dynamics – add/remove - to remove the old program.

This chapter also includes instructions for downloading the daily update files from the attachments on the daily e-mails – see Daily Updates.

On the Desktop - click on START

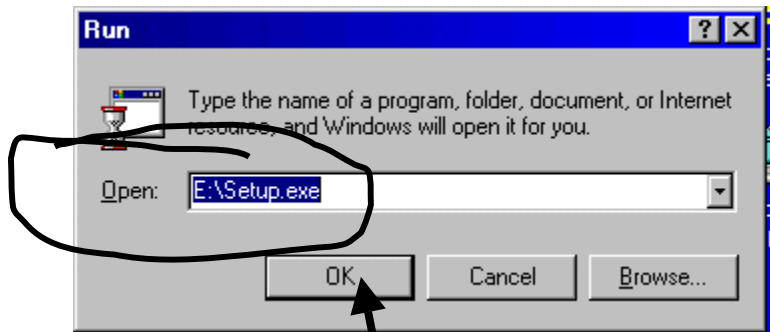

RUN - click on RUN

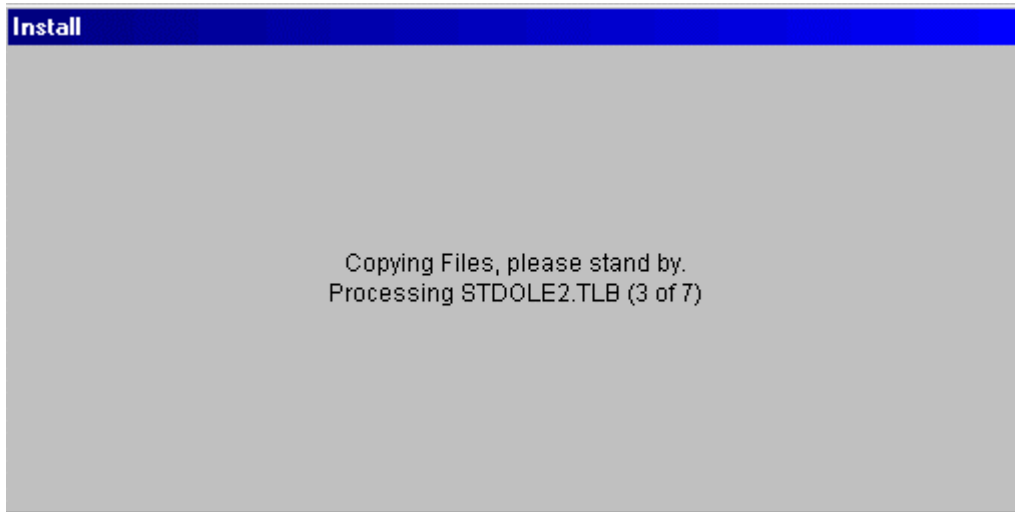

Run Dialog Box

The Run dialog box will open and you should enter the letter for the CD drive and “:\Setup.exe”. You can use the Browse button to find the setup file on the CD-ROM. When the correct drive letter and “:\Setup.exe” is entered into the Dialog Box then click enter to start the installation process. The drive letter is usually D or E.

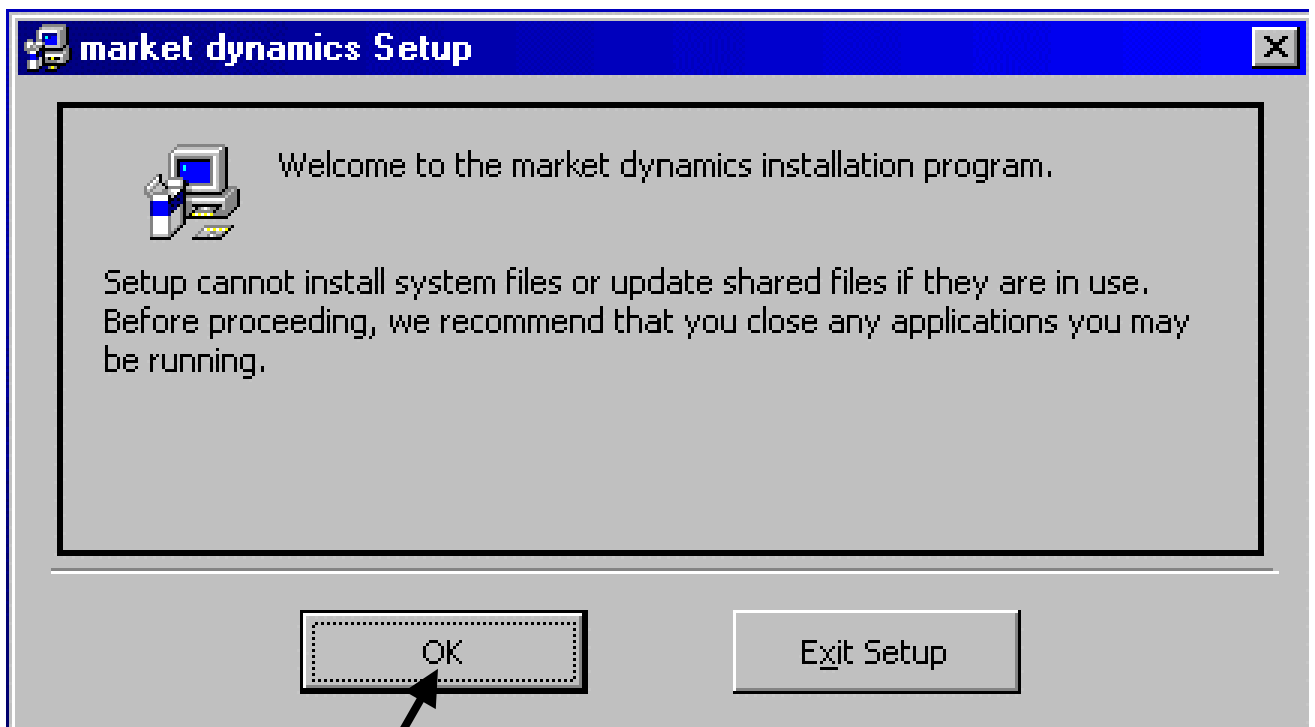

Click on OK to start the installation program

SETUP starts running the installation process – this screen will appear as it copies files.

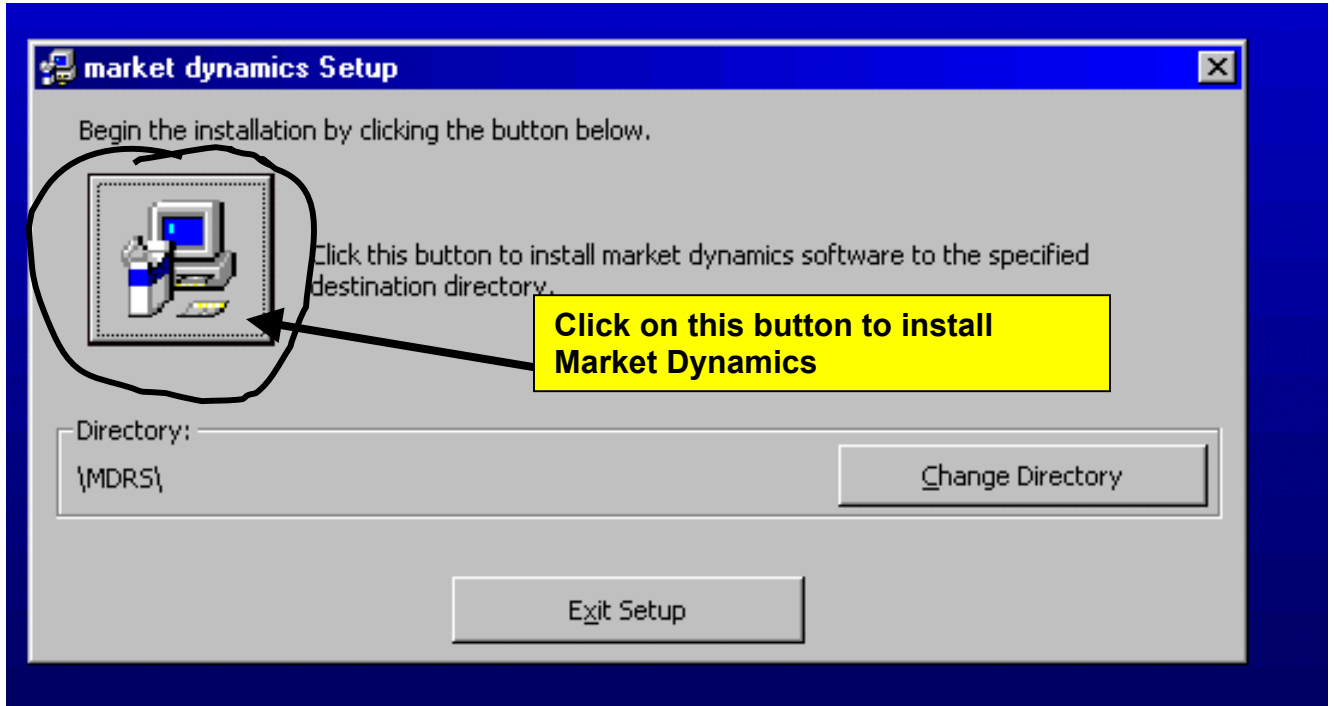

Close All Programs dialog box

– The first box to click

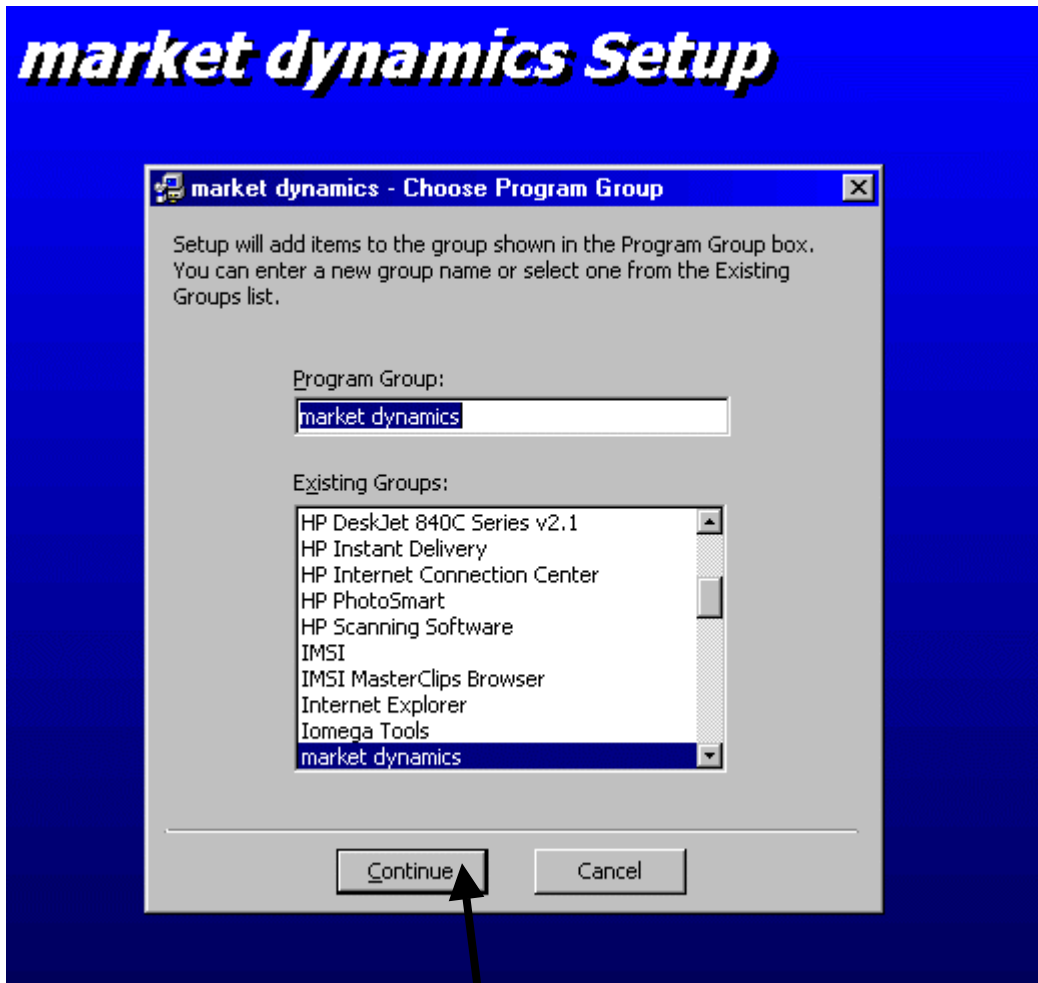

Click the OK button to proceed

Market Dynamics setup box

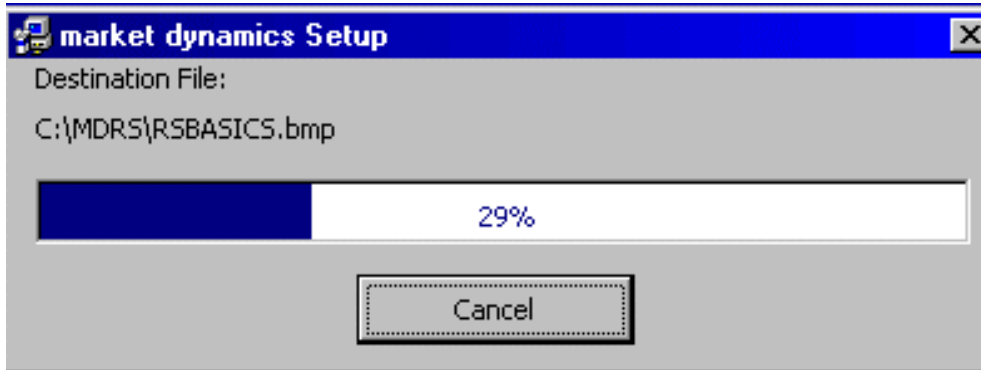

Program group dialog box

Click "continue" button to proceed with the Market Dynamics installation

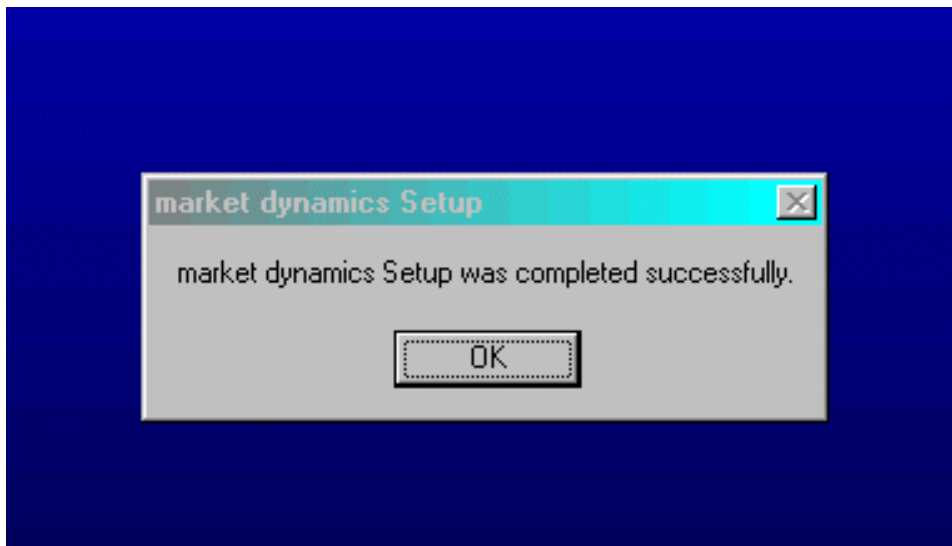

Progress Box

– This box will show the progress of the installation process. You don't need to do anything.

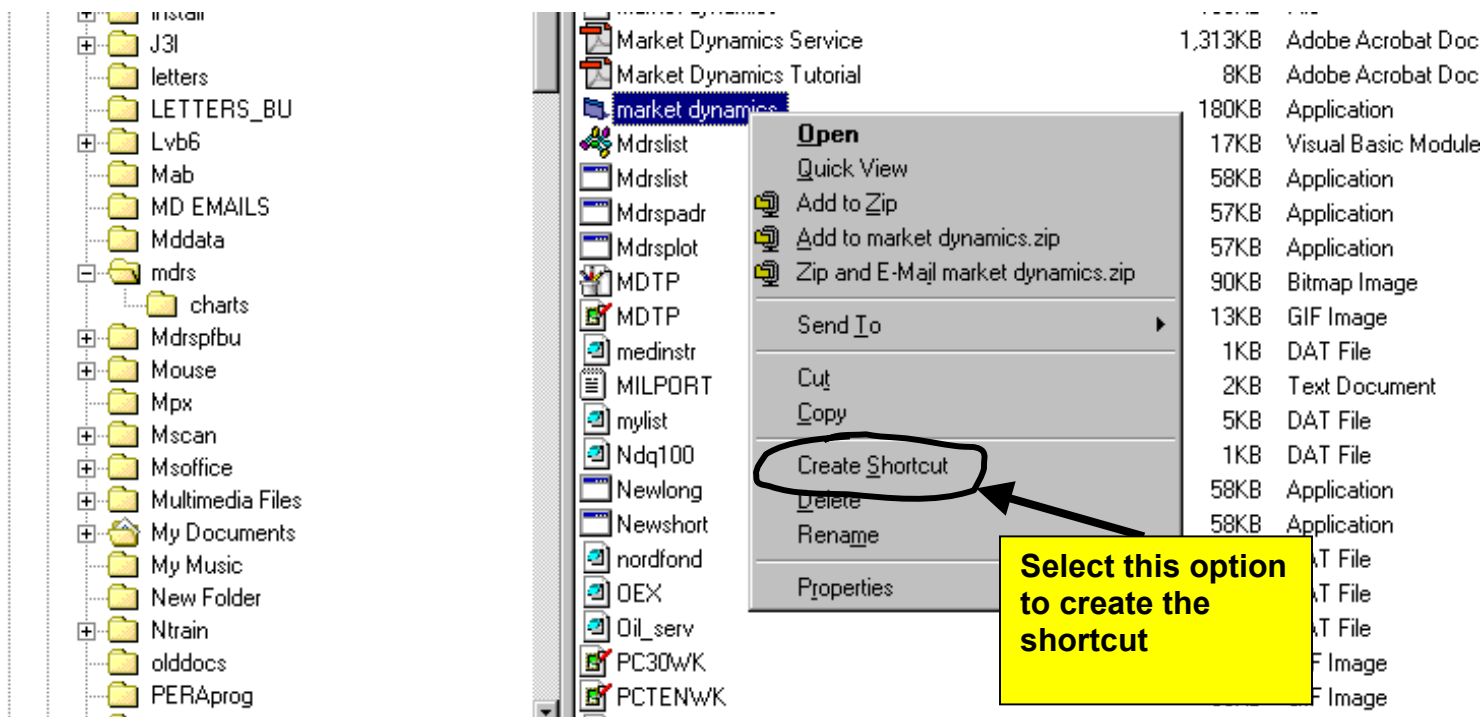

Installation Complete

– When the installation is complete this box will appear.

Creating a shortcut on the Desktop

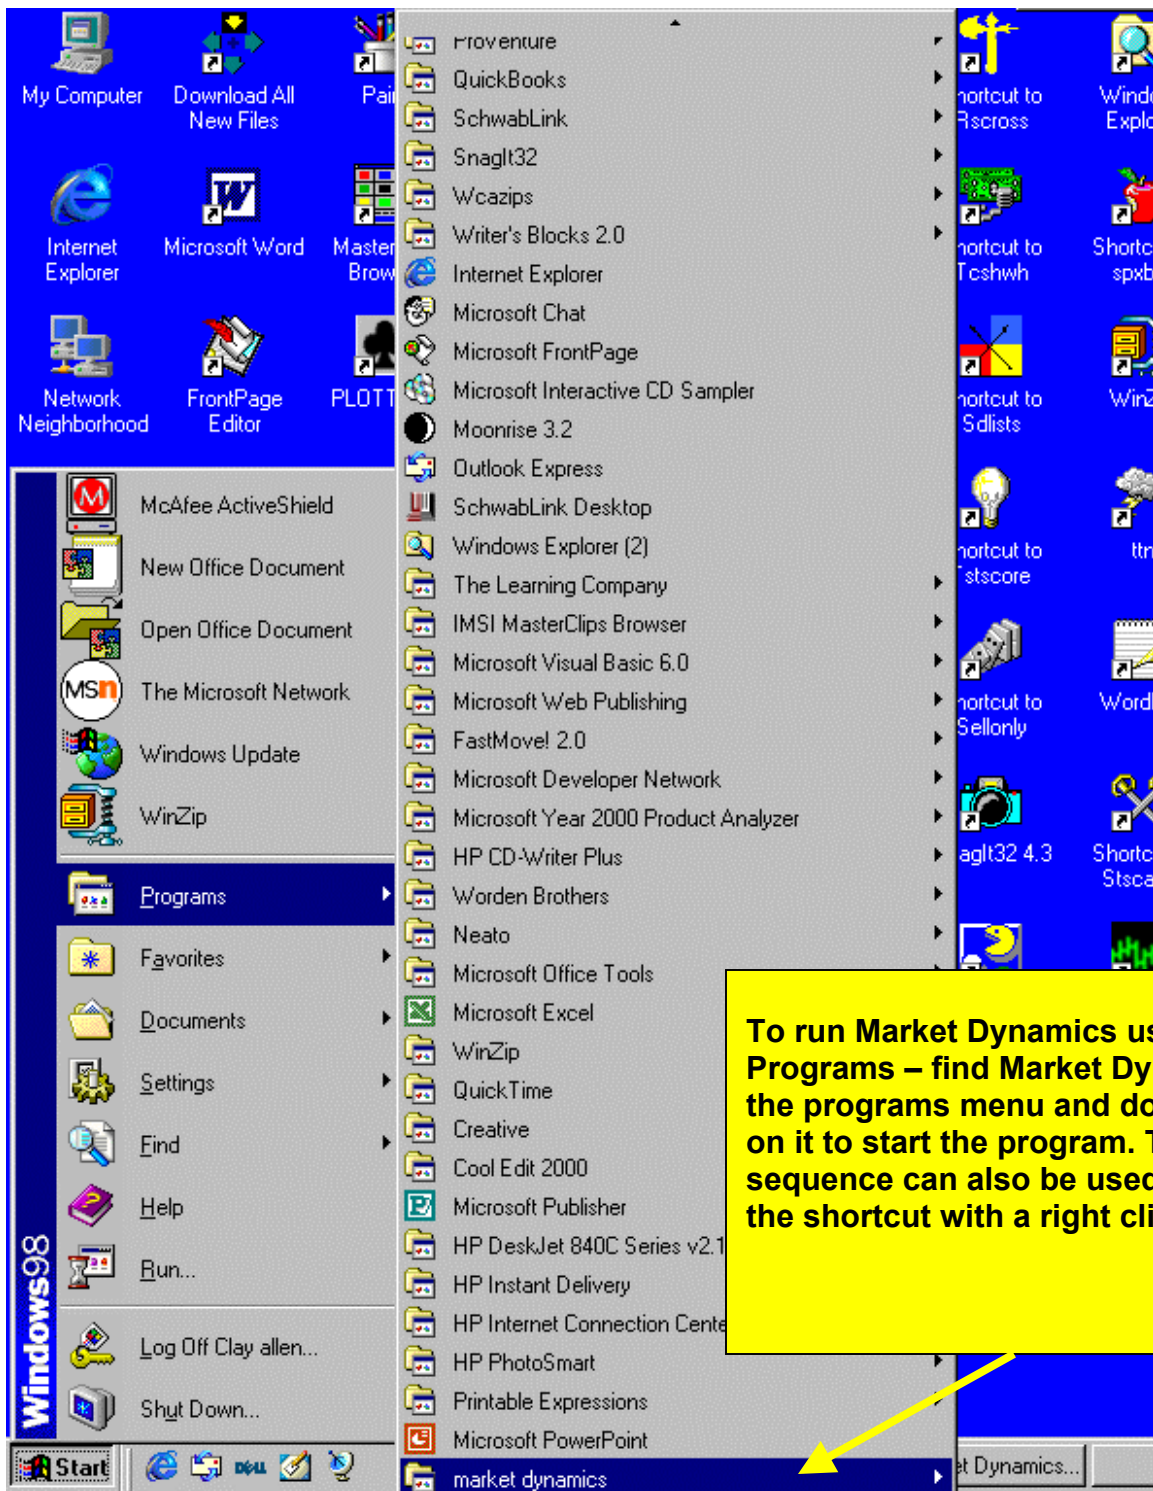

The shortcut will quickly start the Market Dynamics program.

To create a shortcut – in Windows Explorer select the \MDRS folder and then select the Market Dynamics application by clicking on it. Then right click the highlighted file and this drop-down menu box will appear. To create the shortcut click on the Create Shortcut option and the shortcut will be created. It will appear as a file in the right pane that you can select and then drag to the desktop. The desktop folder appears at the very top of the left pane when using Windows Explorer. Click on the shortcut and hold the mouse button down as you drag the file to the desktop at the top of the left pane.

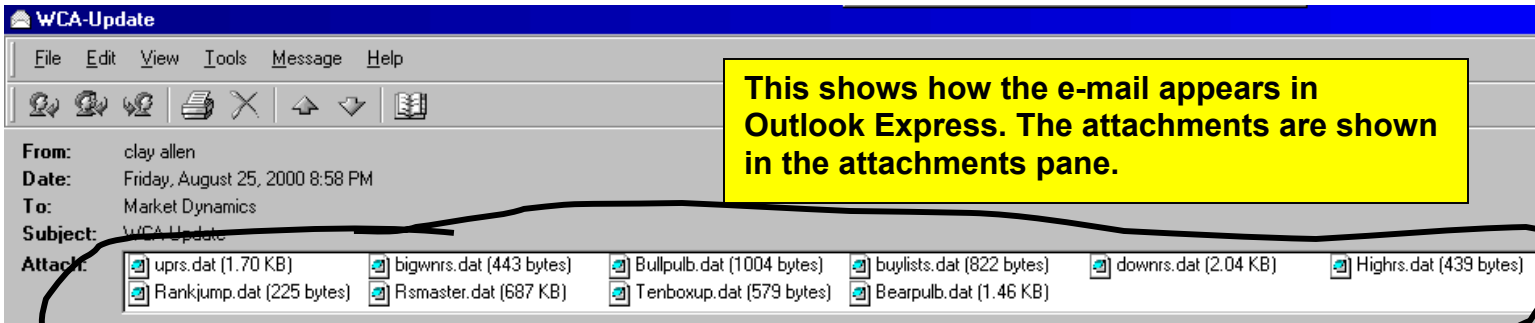

You can also create a shortcut by using – Start – Programs – Market Dynamics – right click and select create shortcut – then drag to any part of the desktop.

RUN MARKET DYNAMICS – if you have not created a shortcut

Daily Updates

The attachments to the "WCA-Update" e-mail are a complete set of files to totally update the Market Dynamics System. If days are missed - use only the most recent e-mail attachments to update the system – there is no need to update any but the most recent day's files.

The daily updates are attached-

Do not try to open these attachments-

The attachments to this e-mail are the updates to the Market Dynamics Relative Strength Point & Figure System

These files are for use with the MDRS System-

use "save attachments" to --> "save all" to the \mdrs\ folder

Be sure to "close" the "Market Dynamics" application before saving attachments

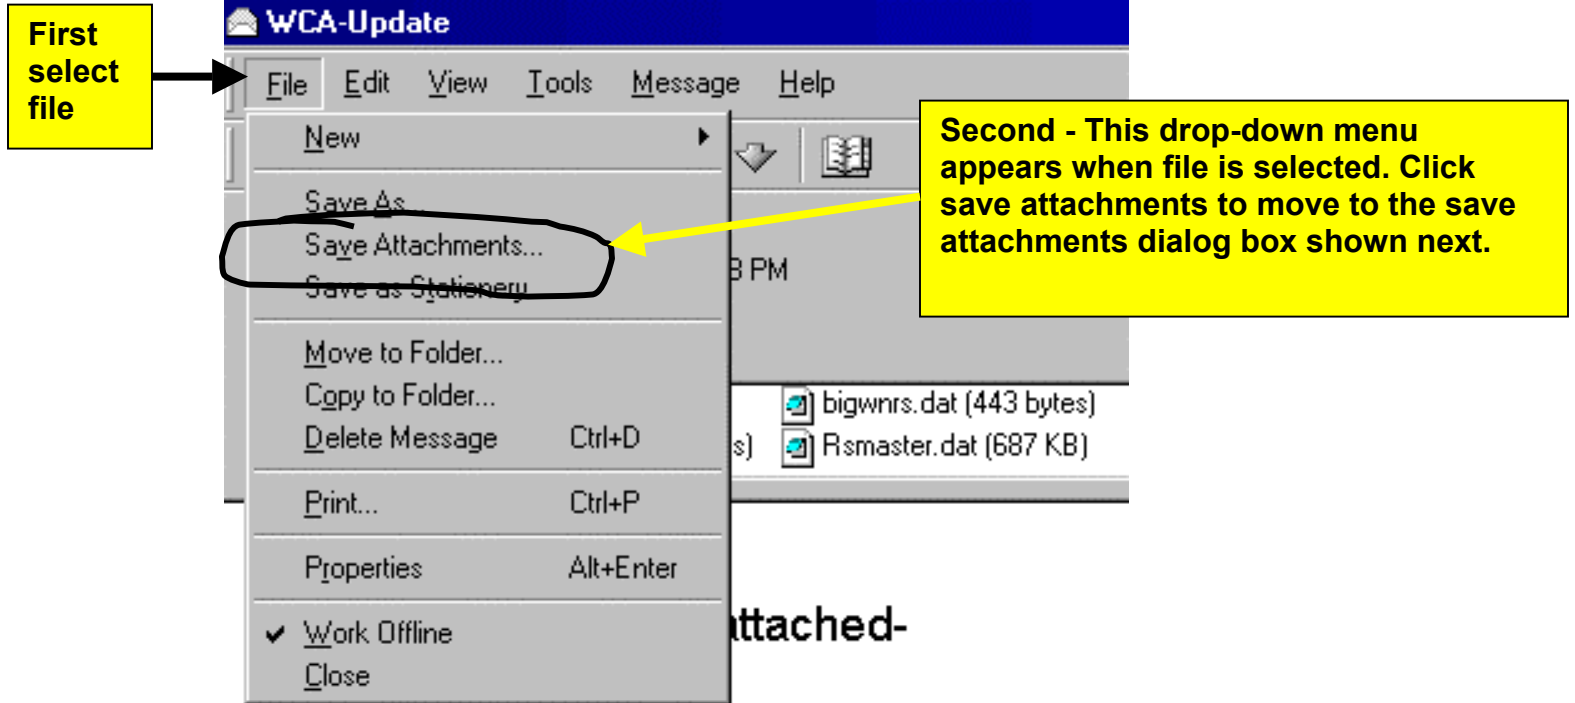

Otherwise an error will occur.

If you have trouble saving these file attachments - contact Market Dynamics @ clayallen@msn.com

SAVING ATTACHMENTS

Select – file – save attachments – to begin the download process. These steps will allow you to download the attachments and to update the files used by the Market Dynamics System.

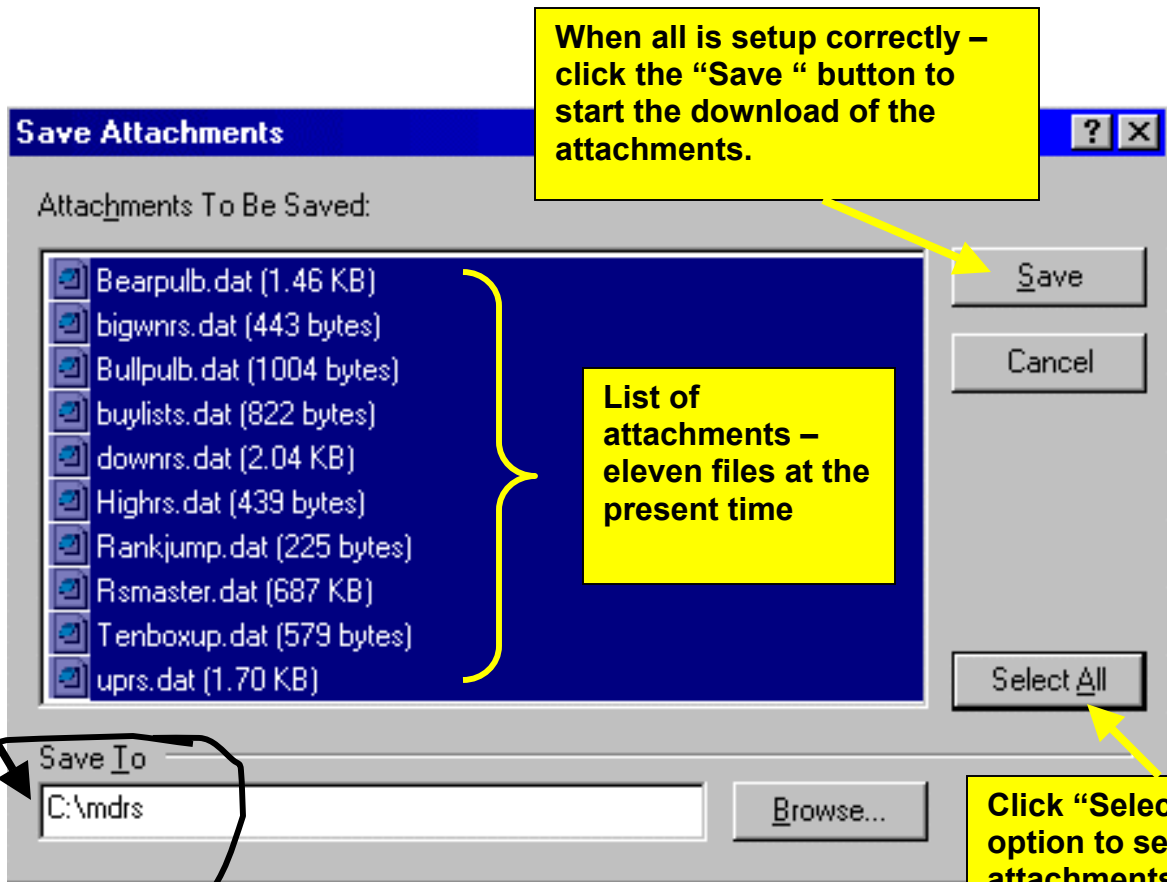

Do not try to open these attachments-

The attachments to this e-mail are the upd

SAVE ATTACHMENTS DIALOG BOX

This dialog box appears after clicking the “save Attachments” option on the file drop-down menu

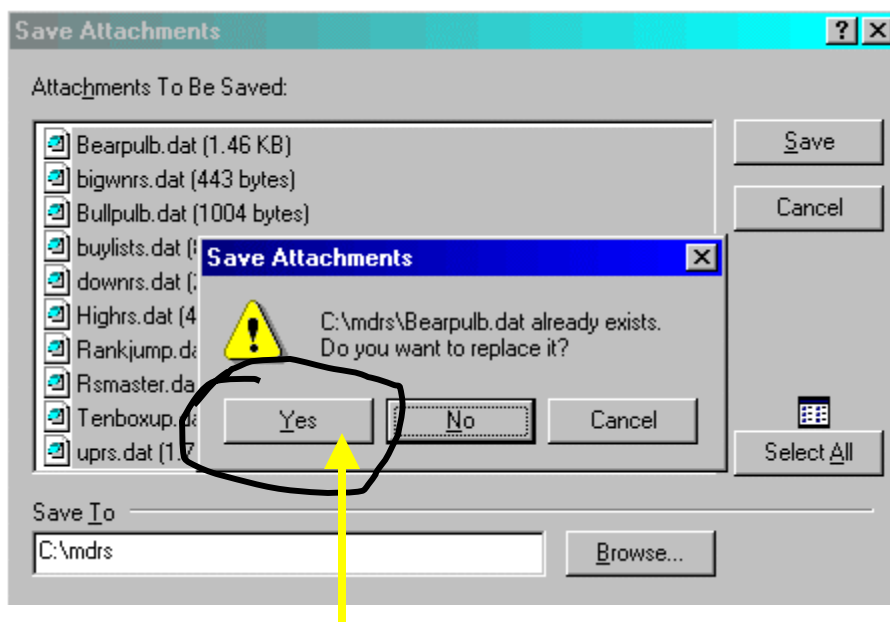

Use the “Browse” button, if needed, to make sure that “C:\MDRS” appears in the “Save to” box. You can also type the “C:\MDRS” into the “Save To” box if that is more convenient.

This determines the folder where the files will be downloaded. The Market Dynamics System and all data files must be located in this folder so it is important to carry out this step or the system will not update properly.

REPLACE EXISTING FILES

As each file is downloaded this dialog box appears to make sure you want to replace an existing file – Answer yes to each by clicking on the “yes” button. This can be done very quickly by using the mouse to click it.

By rapidly clicking on the “yes” button the files will be replaced and the download completed. When all the files have been overwritten the dialog box will disappear and you will return to the main e-mail screen that appeared at the beginning of the download process. This completes the daily download process.

You can close the e-mail window and start the Market Dynamics program.
