

Technical Perspectives on Analyst's Rating Changes

NUVO case study
02-09-2008

NUVO – This is an example of a sudden decline in a stock that occurred without any warning. This kind of a drop is rare but it can happen. The note in the TPARC report said that it lost 75% of its value in one day and that must have taken it down to about $5 per share. It should be noted that the downtrend continued and the stock is now below $2 per share.

W. Clay Allen CFA

