ODP case study
02-24-2008

ODP – The TPARC report from August 2005 indicated that ODP had broken out above a major consolidation and had entered a strong up trend. The stock gained about 50% from the price on the TPARC report to the peak in price. After the peak, the stock made a quick reversal and entered a strong downtrend and it has performed poorly since the peak. From the peak price at about $46 per share the stock has lost almost 75% of its value.
