

Technical Perspectives on Analyst's Rating Changes

ORH - case study
01-18-2009

ORH – The TPARC report for October 23, 2006 called attention to the strong up trend that had developed on ORH at that time. That up trend has continued and the stock has been one of the best performing stocks over the past two years. There have been two periods of consolidation during the trend up but the stock consistently remained above the 45-degree Bullish Support Line throughout the move up.
