

Technical Perspectives on Analyst's Rating Changes

WB – case study
10-17-2008

WB – The TPARC report for January 26, 2007 described the stock as "very close to a downside breakout" with "limited upside potential." Shortly thereafter, the stock broke down and has suffered a steep decline, losing almost 90% of its value. The stock has remained below the 45-degree Bearish Resistance Line for the past year.
