

Technical Perspectives on Analyst's Rating Changes

ZBRA – case study
02-18-2008

ZBRA – This stock was already locked into a persistent long-term downtrend by the time this TPARC was prepared. The technical perspective called attention to the fact that "initial signs of a base are forming" but also advised "waiting for the breakout." The breakout never came and the downtrend resumed, taking the stock down another third from the price level shown on the TPARC report. There are no indications of a reversal, even now.

W, Clay Allen CFA

